VOL. XVII.

STANFORD, KY. FRIDAY, APRIL 12, 1889.

NO. 18

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

We are still hoping and longing for the last talk of railroad. Lancaster needs it and we want her to have it.

We regret to hear of the suicide of Mr. Eph Lillard's brother, at Lawrenceburg. The sad event happened this week at his home at that place.

—Tom Eason, an industrious young man of this place, has been recommended for a position on the C. & S. Railroad. As he is deserving, we hope he will get it.

—Another party went fishing on Wednesday afternoon. The day was exceedingly propitious, but we understand that there was very little success in the way of fishing.

—W. G. Smith, formerly of this place, a son of Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, has just received a lucrative position on the C. & S. Railroad. The friends and relatives of the family are glad to hear of his good luck.

—I have now on hands the largest stock of millinery I have ever brought to Lancaster. A fine display of hats of the very latest styles, ribbons, laces, veillings, etc. All my friends here and in Lincoln are requested to come and examine my stock. Mrs. Moody Hardin.

—Mr. and Mrs. Sim Anderson entertained a number of their friends Tuesday night. The weather was unfavorable and to a certain extent the evening's pleasure was marred. The entertainment was given principally to the Walking Club. All return thanks to the host and hostess for their kind entertainment.

—Mr. Wm. Ferguson has left the sunny clime of Florida and returned to his Kentucky home. Misses Lizzie Walker and Jennie Faulkner were in Danville last week. Miss Nannie Evans, of Junction City, is here on a visit. Mrs. Woodford Dunlap has been to Danville on a visit to friends. Miss Estell Louis, of Georgetown, arrived Wednesday on a visit to her cousin, Miss Jennie Luckey. Mr. James Mason is in Jessamine mixing with old friends and relatives. Sam Evans, who has been in Florida, arrived this week at his uncle's, Mr. George Evans. A number of our citizens are numbered with the sick. Some may have that terrible malady, the spring fever.

KINGSVILLE.

Born to the wife of Wm. H. Clare a son.

—Mr. C. Smith, of New Waynesburg, sold his farm and home stead of 50 acres to L. G. Gouch.

The continued fair and dry weather has enabled the people to get well up with their work.

Fruit prospects are good yet for peaches and plums, a fair quantity still remaining unharvested.

—Miss Anna Hensley and her friend, Miss Phillips, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., are visiting Miss Sallie Johnson, of Kingsville.

—Mr. Harry A. Gardner, of Corrothers, Ohio, has recently moved to his farm that he purchased through the real estate agency at this place.

—The heirs of Mr. Hugh Gardner, New Washington, Ohio, have made necessary arrangements to make good the purchase contract of the E. Padgett farm near Waynesburg.

—Mr. J. L. Johnson will start to Hamilton to-morrow on business. Mr. Johnson moved to Kingsville last June and has since made many friends and has proven himself to be a great accessory to the business portion of our community.

—The death of Henderson Sims, caused by injuries sustained from a horse throwing him, occurred a few days ago. He was buried in the old family graveyard near town. His funeral was largely attended by his many friends and relatives.

The Southern negro today is, in many respects worthy of the greatest praise, and deserves the best and most benevolent consideration from the whites. He is faithful, affectionate and tractable, but is wholly a creature of impulse. He never acts from principle. He seems to be entirely incapable of reasoning out and formulating a moral maxim and making it the basis of any course of action, and for this reason he seems thoroughly incapable of self-government, and therefore does not rise above the social status of a ward or a child that demands the restraints, direction and protection of superior wisdom. Being entirely devoid of principle there is nothing in his nature upon which to found the loftiest sentiments of honor and chastity, and wherever these superior qualities are found, as they are in the mixed breeds, they must be invariably attributed to the superior element.—New Orleans Picayune.

What On Earth?

Is the reason people will not, can not or do not see any difference in cheap nostrums put up by Chemist John houses or irresponsible parties, enormous profits rather than take a medicine of world-wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for Peggy's Blood Purifier and Blood-Maker and every bottle that does not do its work will cost you nothing. A. R. Penny, druggist.

Simpson Mullins, the Brush Creek dwarf, was in town Thursday for the first time in several years. He is 20 years old, 2 feet 10 inches in height and weighs 72 pounds. He enjoys good health.

The "pigs in clover" puzzle has been beaten here. Several parties driving nine pigs into the pen instead of four, "Chickens in the door yard" is the latest. It is worked here easily. Send something harder.
